THE BIG NUMBER

40%

of people wait until the last minute to do their Christmas shopping.

Are you one of those who waits until December 21st to start your Christmas shopping? You're not alone; 40% of the population wait until the very last minute to buy their presents. And 10% of these late shoppers make their purchases on December 23 and 24. This year, why not start planning for the holidays now? You can even order online to avoid the holiday rush.

After two consecutive pandemic Christmases, we're all looking forward to celebrating the holidays with extended family (except maybe that second cousin once removed, who only seems to want to talk politics)! Here are three gift ideas that are sure to be a hit at your next gift exchange.

Tote bag: Your sister-in-law will love the fact that she can carry everything, including her never-been-used (really?!) binoculars, in this bag!

High-end coffee maker: The perfect present for the coffee lover of the family. The only issue is you might want to keep it for yourself!

Kids headphones: Trust us, this gift is sure to please both your brother and his offspring!

It's in the bag!

PRO TIPS

"The holiday season is the perfect time to thank my team for all their hard work over the past year. Despite my best intentions, however, I noticed that some gifts end up stashed away in the bottom of a drawer. I now opt for gifts that my employees can use everyday. Let's just say that after the cat mug episode, I've learned my lesson!"

— LUCIE TREMBLAY, CEO OF COMMUNICATIONS INC.

BE CREATIVE

Tell me which bag you use, I'll tell you who you are!

Did you know that the old "you are what you eat" saying goes beyond just food? That's right: it can easily apply to your bag choices as well. Here's a fun guide revealing aspects of your personality based on your favourite bag type.

The large vegan-leather tote bag

Despite your strong animal ethics, convenience is key for you. Your bag is big enough to hold everything you need to survive three days in the woods!

The backpack

Your style is casual chic. With your organizational skills, you're a force to be reckoned with when it comes to managing projects (or planning a kid's birthday party).

The briefcase

Your good judgement and impeccable taste have earned you your colleagues' respect—even though they've seen pictures of you at your last party!

The convertible bag

A globetrotter at heart, a nomad worker, and a collector of adventures: with you, anything is possible! Your stories delight all your friends (while mortifying your parents)!

ADVICE TOOLBOX

Pen and paper: still a must!

With the digital world taking more and more space in our lives, pen and paper are being replaced with note-taking apps. And yet, these tools are still very useful!

Improving your memory

If you tend to forget everything, maybe it's time to take good old hand-written notes! According to a study by the Encyclopédie sur la neuroscience, writing things by hand helps retain information.

Making a grocery list

Ever type up a long grocery list on your phone only to forget your device at home? Writing it on paper could save you from having to run back home... and using a few colourful words!

Expressing an idea visually

Want to illustrate an idea for your colleague? Rather than acting it out, draw up your idea on paper. Having these supplies on hand can help you bring an idea to light and make it clearer for everyone.

4

Writing your Christmas list

Have a wish list for Santa (or your parents or partner)? A list on paper is much more personal and heartwarming than a quick email!

Note-taking: your best ally!

Gifts teens will love

Finding the perfect gift for a teenager is no easy feat! Here are some suggestions to spoil them this Christmas.

Bluetooth speaker: They could use it to watch a movie in their room with friends while mom and dad indulge in a rare romantic evening.

Wireless headphones: The ideal accessory for any music lover (especially if you can't stand your teen's favourite electro-funk band).

Headset: Is your teen a gamer? Then a headset is a must to successfully complete their missions!

An eco-friendly gift exchange

Afraid you might end up with yet another candle? Plan a vintage gift exchange! Here are three reasons to opt for a durable gift:

It's fun: Have an old-school Céline Dion shirt? It's the ideal gift for any fan of the singer . . . and the perfect opportunity to talk about your Vegas trip!

It's eco-friendly: Over-consumption has negative impacts on the planet. You're therefore helping reduce your carbon footprint.

It's economical: You won't have to spend a penny. Awesome!
